

SCORES ARE KILLED AND HUNDREDS INJURED WHEN TORNADO SWEEPS OVER MANY STATES

Fifty Known Dead in Arkansas

Texas, Alabama and Mississippi
Report Deaths by Storm

Property Damage Still Unesti-mated

Storm Toll Increases With Late
Reports

(By Associated Press)

Little Rock, Ark., April 16.—Fifty known dead and hundreds of persons injured were reported in dispatches received from the Tornado swept section of Southeast Arkansas today.

Property damage is as yet unestimated.

Reports coming into Little Rock from the storm area augmented rather than diminished the extent of the damage and because of paralyzed wire communication officials were of the opinion that several days might elapse before the full extent of the destruction is definitely known.

In the rural section of upper Miller county near Texarkana, eleven persons are known to have been killed and a large number injured. Near Hope in Hempstead county press dispatches stated that from 15 to 20 persons were killed and scores injured by the storm which swept the entire length of the county.

SEVEN PERISH IN TEXAS AREA

(By Associated Press)

Dallas, Texas, April 16.—At least 7 lives were lost in northeast Texas late yesterday in a tornado which after sweeping sections of Smith, Wood, Gregg, Cass and Bowie counties passed into Arkansas.

Scores of persons were reported injured in the effected area of Texas. Six of the Texas fatalities were at Avinger, Cass county, and one at Atlanta.

ALABAMA TOWNS ARE DEMOLISHED

(By Associated Press)

Birmingham, Ala., April 16.—Reports centering into Birmingham over badly crippled lines of communication indicate that the town of Ralph, Tuscaloosa county, was almost completely wiped by a cyclone early today, and that Sulligent, LaMar county, suffered a like fate.

In the early reports which lack confirmation the number of injured runs into the scores.

Hattiesburg, Miss., April 16.—One woman was killed and at least 12 persons injured in a tornado which struck Sontag 16 miles east of Brookhaven today. Ten houses were wrecked.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION MAKES REPORT OF INTEREST

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 17.—Legislation to eliminate unnecessary brokerage transactions, to facilitate a wide distribution of information regarding market condition and to strengthen the powers of the federal government in its price investigation is recommended by the Federal Trade Commission in a report on the general industrial situation drawn up at the request of President Harding and made public tonight at the White House.

It is suggested that means must be found to reduce costs of necessities such as fuel and housing before other commodities can come back to normal.

Declaring the cost of commodities to the consumer has not, broadly speaking, been reduced in proper proportion to the decline in raw materials, the commission sets forth its belief that "in general it would appear that the movement toward the reduction of prices to the consumer is retarded chiefly at the retailing stage, and that relief at this point would be reflected back in increased production which would reduce the production costs and relieve to some extent at least the check-up on the manufacturer, and by increasing the demand for raw materials would react upon the producer.

AFFECTING SERVICES MARK FUNERAL OF AUGUSTA VICTORIA

(By Associated Press)

Doorn Holland, April 17.—Never was contrast between former glory and present state of humiliation more accentuated than when Wilhelm, the former German Emperor, followed the body of his wife, Augusta Victoria, to the station at Maarn, where he entrusted the faithful companion of his grandeur and his sorrow to his sons and friends to take back to the fatherland.

The emperor that was and the ex-crown prince and other sons present were all attired in full uniform of the Prussian Guard, their helmets crepe covered.

The funeral procession arrived at the little station at Maarn in darkness only broken by the light from a few lamps on the railway embankment. First came a huge car covered with flowers, flanked by servants who loaded the wreaths into the railway carriage.

About ten minutes later the hearse arrived, flashing powerful searchlights. It was draped in black cloth with white cross and border.

A brief oration was delivered by Dr. Dryander, the court chaplain, before the coffin was placed in the railway carriage.

For a brief period Wilhelm became dimly visible to those who had gathered to watch the ceremony, his figure that of a man broken by sorrow. A service in mourning for the former empress was held in Doorn Castle this morning. The service was an affecting one and during its progress, former Emperor Wilhelm frequently sobbed and at one point seemed at the verge of a breakdown.

Ex-Crown Prince Frederick William his brothers, Adelbert and Oscar and others of the mourning party were visibly affected as they knelt before the bier.

MONDELL DOES NOT FAVOR A TAX ON SALES

Says Sharp Decrease in Expenses Necessary

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 16.—Voicing his opposition to a sales tax representative Mondell of Wyoming, Republican leader predicted today that no law taxing sales would be enacted at this session of congress.

Representative Mondell said he believed a majority of members of Congress were opposed to such legislation and were convinced it was not needed as a substitute for excess profits tax, the repeal of which was urged by President Harding in his message to Congress.

The slump in revenue must be met, Mr. Mondell added, by a sharp decrease in governmental expenditures rather than by a shifting of the tax burden.

FRANCE TO INCREASE HOLDINGS IN GERMANY

Zone of Occupation Will Be Extended if Paym't Not Made

Military and Economic Measures
Considered by French

(By Associated Press)

Paris, April 16.—Occupation of more Germany territory by French forces should the Germans fail to meet the Allied demands for the payment of twelve billion gold marks by May 1 may go beyond the Ruhr district and include at least a part of the industrial section of Westphalia, it is declared by the Echo de Paris.

In discussing yesterday's meeting of the French Cabinet, at which the question of eventual extension of military penalties was considered, the newspaper says that two reports, one military and the other economic, were adopted.

Marshal Foch submitted the military report. He is declared to have held that the first advance by French forces should be carried out with columns imposing enough to deal with any German reaction, although that would be most improbable. He declared this force could be considerably decreased once occupation was well established.

Louis Loucheur, Minister of Liberated Regions, submitted the economic report, stating that the penalties to be applied should not be merely to exert pressure upon the Germans and force them to give in, but as a means to bring in the money due to France.

He outlined a system of payment of a permanent character which might be continued after the occupation. It consisted essentially in taxing Rhineland coal and industrial products exported from the occupation area. He declared that, according to careful calculation, these payments should yield three billion gold marks per year.

Hooper, former governor of Tennessee to represent the public group.

General Conference is On For Coming Week

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, April 15.—Union heads of thirteen railway employees' organizations today were summoned into conference tomorrow with B. M. Jewell, of the employees' department, American Federation of Labor, to outline labor's plans for rules conferences with railroad managements all over the country.

Over the railroad labor board's rules decision this week the carriers and their employees were directed to get together at the earliest possible date. The fact that a report on the result of the conferences must be made to the board by July 1st meant negotiations would start immediately, it was said.

Between 300 and 400 general chairman representing the different unions of the various systems have been called to participate in the union conference next week. They will be instructed on methods of procedure in negotiating with individual carriers.

WOMAN MURDERED BY SINN FEINERS AT LONELY SPOT

(By Associated Press)

Dublin, April 17.—The first execution of a woman in the strife of factions in Ireland is announced. She was taken from her home in the Scotstown district of Monaghan today and shot and killed on the bank of the river.

The woman, Kitty MacCarron, who was about 45 years of age, lived with her parents, octogenarians, in a wild mountainous part of the country. About midnight a knock was heard at the door and a party of masked men entered and informed the victim they had come for her.

She struggled in vain: the assassins fastened her hands behind her back and led her pleading pitifully down a lane about a mile to the main road by the side of which the body was afterwards found with a bullet wound through the cheek, which is the customary sign of Sinn Fein executions.

A card on the body was inscribed: "Spies and informers beware. Tried, convicted and executed by the Irish Republican Army."

Next Friday morning there will be a big conference of miners' delegates from throughout the country at which it is expected the miners will decide what future action they shall pursue.

DR. HENRY'S LAST SERMON SUNDAY ATTENDANCES LARGE

The best testimony to the helpfulness of Dr. Henry's sermon has been the steady increase in the numbers at both the afternoon and evening services.

Friday afternoon the Presbyterian church was well filled to hear his message on "Heaven." Friday night the main church of Grace church auditorium and nearly half the balcony were used to seat the people. The sermon on "The Home" was one of the most impressive and heart searching messages of the series. The lateness of the season and the general indifference of the people have been difficult to overcome in the meetings, but more and more the people have come to realize the unusual strength and thought of Dr. Henry's sermons and those who have been in attendance are bearing testimony to the great good which is being accomplished.

Sunday will be the closing day of the series of meetings. At 10:30 a.

ORIENTALS USING PASSPORT VISES IN BIG SWINDLE

CONSTANTINOPLE. (By Mail)—Swindling travelers in connection with passport visas has become one of the favorite means of livelihood of minor officials in the Orient and Balkan countries.

Mrs. J. H. K. Polly, wife of an American business man living in London, was recently a victim of this fraud while traveling on the Orient Express, running from here to Paris. When the train was passing from Bulgaria into Serbia, at 2 o'clock in the morning, an official in uniform representing himself as a Serb inspector, demanded to see her passport. Informed her that the visé obtained at the Serb legation in Constantinople was invalid and ordered her to leave the train. After protestation, he consented to accept $35 to let her continue her journey. She had already paid $30 for visés of her passport.

Before leaving Constantinople many travelers are obliged to give large sums to get visés which later may be declared invalid in this manner.

Since refugees from Russia are not wanted in other countries, where they may become public charges, few passports are granted them officially but they are furnished with proper papers for sums ranging from $20 to $100. As these refugees are poor, they are often obliged to spend all their traveling expenses for visés.

Another form of swindle results from the general European laws against taking large sums of silver, gold or paper money of a given country into another.

To prevent such traffic governments place officials at frontiers who demand of each traveler the sum of foreign cash on his person. If he declares anything above the equivalent of $70, or some such modest sum it is taken and a receipt given which he may cash in money of the country on leaving it. Sometimes the inspector merely pockets the money, or will take a bribe to let the traveler proceed with all his cash.

Local Manager Wanted

Unusual Opportunity for Right Man

A large brokerage firm doing a successful business with well-rated concerns throughout the country, wants a capable man at once to develop and handle their local business.

The opportunity is an unusual one because of the possibilities offered for substantial earnings in highly respectable business which will steadily increase as it becomes more firmly established locally.

The position requires a man possessing executive and sales ability with business experience and having commercial banking connections, although no investment is necessary. He may devote only a portion of his time to the business at first if desired, though we prefer a man who is able and free to give the business his entire time and best efforts.

The local branch should pay from $2500 to $10,000 the first year, according to population and the ability of the manager, as the commodity which we handle is a staple, always in demand, and which our large buying facilities permit us to sell at less than average market prices.

Owing to the demand, we must fill this position at once. Send your application to Guarantee Coal Mining Company, Como Bldg., Chicago, Ill., but do not write unless you can satisfy us as to honesty, reputation and business ability. —Adv.

Gould's Proposal

Representative Gould of New York introduced in the House of Congress on Thursday a bill calling for an investigation by the federal authorities, as to the rumored control and price of food products.

In presenting his bill Representative Gould recited that the decline, in prices, of farm products had excited the fear of the farming population and was leading or might lead, many farmers into hastily indorsing a plan of association, announced, intended as a protection against loss, but, in reality, operating to reduce production.

We do not know Representative Gould and we do not know his more intimate political or business affiliations, which might warrant a suspicion that he was prejudiced, in taking the action he did, or that he represented those who had a selfish interest to serve and neither do we know that he is entirely free from any entangling alliances which might, in a measure, direct his conduct.

We do know, however, that, no matter what the moving cause behind Representative Gould may be, he is alluding to a well founded fear—a fear which may give us all some considerable concern—the threat of a concerted action to reduce production.

The farmers, like all the rest of us, are having financial difficulties right now, but they, like all the rest of us, must "carry on."

We, here in an agricultural community, can appreciate the difficulties of the farmer. We must appreciate them—they effect us all but, at the same time, it is dangerous for the farmer and dangerous for the nation—its business and its permanent wealth—to undertake to force higher prices by combination designed to produce unwholesome conditions not warranted by natural laws and normal laws of trade and commerce.

Price and value, income and outgo, cost and expense fill all right themselves in due time if every one does his whole duty and works and produces—the farmers and all of us.

There have been rumors that some such a combination was contemplated, but it has never got well started and we hope it will meet with discouragement everywhere.

Combination in restraint of trade or to control trade or to force a fictitious market value are inherently wrong and can only result in harm.

We hope the rumors will never come to the place where facts justifies their repetition and where congressional action is necessary as Representative Gould now seems to think it is.

Railroad Order Abrogated

The United States Railroad Labor Board, on Thursday, made a sweeping order, abrogating all national agreements, defining working conditions for employees of American railroads.

That action is the most important and far-reaching, in its effect, that has occurred since the close of the war.

The working agreement between the employees and employers, the rules and regulations adopted and put into force, as a consequence to the federal control and operation of railroads, while perhaps the best arrangement that could have been made during that chaotic period of disturbed conditions, has, as a governing code proved unsatisfactory in the extreme.

Our railroad service, inefficient and blundering, under government control, has not improved under private control. Our transportation facilities have proven a costly burden on the people and a wholly unsatisfactory means of carrying domestic commerce.

The whole transportation system seemed to persist, in spite of all the elaborate machinery erected and maintained for its repair, in remaining broken down. It has defied the most earnest endeavors of financiers and statesmen to revive it under the present plans.

It was a wise act, we believe, in the national administration to junk all existing plans and start from the foundation again with new plans to better the transportation system of the country with the purpose of establishing lower rates and increasing the service as well as bringing about some sort of a lasting agreement between employees and owners—some plan which takes into account changed conditions and to adapt the railroad management to present needs and requirements rather than seeking to continue plans predicated on abnormal conditions.

POETRY FOR TODAY

WAKE!

Are you?
Or are you going to be?
For, to exist is not
To surely be.
Have you begun to be
Worthy of earth.
Let alone heaven?
When will you start
Being?
Perhaps you existed
Oh, many centuries,
Doffing and donning flesh,
Piffing through lives,
But never living.
Wake! It is time to be—
To live, to think, to do.
To know and to be known.
To cleave a way
Out of the dark, the drab, the bound,
Into the light, the free—
To start to be!

FOREIGN POLICY
MAY BE SHAPED
BY PRESTIGE
OF THE SENATEUpper House Intent on Holding Advantage GainedDuring Clash With Administration of President WilsonBY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1921)

Washington, April 16.—The easiest thing to understand about our foreign affairs is the composition and the sentiments of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations. This body in the past has shared with the Senate Committee on Finance the position of being the most important committee in the Senate. During the two years' fight on the League of Nations the Foreign Relations Committee came into the limelight to such a degree and by its victory over the White House won such a prestige that it now outshadows the Finance Committee.

It is the determination of the Foreign Relations Committee not to surrender the prestige it recently won that accounts largely for the present tension between it and the White House. In this situation there is a factor which the public may overlook and which even the Senators themselves may, in the strength of their feeling, ignore too much. That factor is that whereas the committee's victory last year was against a President of the opposite party their fight must now be, if they make a fight, against a President of their own party.

It is one thing for Republican Senators to win power away from a Democratic President. It is quite a different matter, in order to keep that power, to make a fight against a Republican President. Republican Senators for their support in their home states look to Republican voters, and Republican voters may well give them support in a fight against a Democratic President when they would withhold it in a fight against a Republican President.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs consists of sixteen members, ten Republicans and six Democrats. For practical purposes all power is exercised by the Republican majority of the committee. This Republican majority, during the present session will consist of the same Senators as during the past session, except that two changes have been made: Senator Harding has gone off the committee to become President and Senator Fall has gone off the committee to become a member of the cabinet. The places of these two have been taken by Senator McCormick of Illinois and Senator Kellogg of Minnesota.

Almost Solidly Irreconcilable
The Republican membership of the committee as it now stands consists of the following men. Lodge of Massachusetts, chairman; McCumber of North Dakota; Borah of Idaho; Brandegee of Connecticut; Kellogg of Minnesota; Knox of Pennsylvania; McCormick of Illinois; Johnson of California; New of Indiana, and Moses of New Hampshire. This group in its attitude on foreign affairs is at least 80 per cent irreconcilable, and comes close to being 100 per cent irreconcilable.

In all the fighting last year Borah Brandegee, McCormick, Knox, Johnson and Moses were always irreconcilable. New and Kellogg were classed as Senators who believed in adopting the League of Nations with reservations. McCumber was the one Republican Senator who was almost identified with the Democratic position in favoring the League even in the original form, if reservations were made.

Lodge, the chairman, last year acted more or less as a conciliator between the two factions. This year however, not only are there still six out and out irreconcilables on the committee but in addition to that practically all of the other four have changed their attitude and their change has been in the direction of the irreconcilable position.

McCumber has formally and publicly shifted somewhat away from the position he formerly had. Kellogg has made no formal change, but it is clear that he understands the practical difficulty of maintaining his former position. New has come close to taking the complete irreconcilable position.

In the manoeuvring of the last two weeks it is New who has made the strongest public declaration in favor of the irreconcilable position. Lodge, the chairman, from being last year a moderator between the two factions, now has a position in which he practically takes it for granted that the irreconcilables are in control and that his official duty as chairman, is to reflect the irreconcilable attitude.

Democrats Ready to Help

The Republican majority of the Senate Committee of Foreign Affairs is therefore, completely of the irreconcilable attitude in its position on the League of Nations, on the Treaty and on our foreign relations generally. If by any chance, McCumber and Kellogg should fail to stand with the others, their places would be filled by members of the Democratic minority, among whom there is at least one, and possibly two, who in any test vote would probably stand with the irreconcilable Republican position rather than with their own party. The entire Democratic membership of the committee consists of Hitchcock of Nebraska; Williams of Mississippi; Swanson of Virginia; Pomerene of Ohio; Pittman of Nevada, and Shields of Tennessee.

The irreconcilables are, therefore completely in the saddle so far as the Committee on Foreign Relations is concerned. Not only do they have the numbers and the power in a formal sense, in addition to that they have the conviction that their attitude is supported by the Republican voters in the states from which they come. For example, the other day when Senator New of Indiana gave out a statement strongly favoring the Knox resolution, he had just returned to Washington from a three weeks' stay in his home state.

Can any one doubt that Senator New would not have taken that position if he did not feel that it would be acceptable to the Republican voters of his state? Senator New comes up for renomination and re-election next year. Within barely a year he must fight for his political life. His opponent, it is expected, will be Senator Beveridge, who is one of the original and most earnest advocates of a policy of isolation for America. Under the circumstances it is inconceivable that Senator New would have taken the position he did unless he felt it was the best politics.

McCumber Has the "Two-Year Pulse"

In the same way, Senator McCumber is also serving the last two years of his term and has, therefore, what politicians call the "two-year pulse" of responsiveness to conditions in his state. The irreconcilables feel that the degree of opposition to the League of Nations and to relations with Europe in a broad sense that was reflected in the elections last November has been intensified by Lansing's book and by the wide distribution of his magazines articles, in which he gave a most disagreeable picture of European diplomacy and of European diplomats, especially Lloyd George. The confidence of irreconcilables that their attitude is supported by the majority of the Republican voters, at least, is complete.

Against this it is to be said that sooner or later business conditions in the United States will give rise to a demand for some action looking toward the stabilizing of economic conditions throughout the world. As soon as the farmer and the small business man realize that their troubles are due to the breakdown of international trade and that breakdowns can most quickly be cured by co-operation with Europe, his support of the irreconcilable doctrine of isolation will be modified by the discovery.

So much for the irreconcilable strength within the Committee on Foreign Relations. But within the Senate as a whole, and within Congress as a whole, it is a different matter. If President Harding should determine not to try to satisfy the irreconcilable position; if he should determine to oppose them, he would have, as things stand today, a considerable chance of winning.

In the first place, he would have a large support from the Democrats. In the second place, he has, for the present, the power of patronage. Comparatively few of the offices have yet been filled. In the third place, he would probably have the support of the lower house of congress. In any test of strength between the White House and the Senate, the lower house would tend strongly to support the White House.

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

Most appalling is the information given out through the newspapers of traffic in girls imported from war-torn countries of the Near East by a ring of aliens in Detroit.

According to the informer more than 200 girls between 14 and 20 years old were enroute from Armenia, Palestine and Turkey to be sold to the highest bidders.

Immigration authorities have begun an investigation. If it is found that wives of any aliens obtained admittance to the United States by false statements they will be deported.

The Girls' Friendly Society also has begun an inquiry. Officials of the organization said that they frequently had heard reports of such a traffic, but "could not believe it."

Daughters and sisters of aliens already in Detroit were being sold. Inspector Short was told.

Not all of the girls are married legally, but numbers are held in harems maintained by wealthy aliens was the assertion made by Mrs. Kalajian, representing the Armenian women of the city.

Girls residing in the war-stricken countries are sold through their photographs, she explained, as relatives in this city sell the pictures to members of the ring. Persons desiring to purchase girls select photographs and order the girls to be brought to Detroit, paying deposits of from $200 to $400 she said.

"Most girls have seen so much poverty and have known so much want that they are glad for any chance to come to America, which most Easterners believe is like heaven," said Mrs. Kalajian. "When they land, many of them wish to back out of the bargain, but are forced to go with the men who buy them."

"There are more than 200 girls enroute to this city from Armenia, Turkey and other countries in the Near East, many of them mere children. Armenian women of Detroit have been overwhelmed by a vast majority of men. Now we are asking officials to aid us."

The hum of sewing machines is daily increasing in a steady crescendo throughout Lake Division of the American Red Cross as more and more chapters engage in the production of garments for the hundreds of thousands of babies and small children in Europe who are clad only in meager rags or newspapers.

In accordance with plans worked out at National Headquarters of the Red Cross in Washington mobilization of chapter workers in a nation-wide sewing circle has taken place simultaneously in the eight divisions into which the country was recently divided.

Conservation will go hand in hand with this vast garment production project, efforts being directed toward the conversion of used clothing into warm and serviceable garments for the destitute children abroad.

TAXICAB IS HER
DRESSING ROOM

Muriel Pope is appearing in "The Heart of a Child" at the Kingsway theater, London, and in "A Safety Match" at the Strand theater there. She plays the part of a society girl in one play and a factory girl in the other. To appear at each performance promptly she changes her costume while hurrying between the theaters in a taxi cab.

Lake Division's quota if the clothing to be shipped overseas is 38,000 layettes and 300,000 garments for boys and girls up to 14 years. The war-time spirit of service which accomplished wonders in Red Cross chapter work-rooms is being renewed in a way that promises a quick and generous response to the appeal that has gone up from the great number of suffering little ones in Central and Eastern Europe.

With materials furnished by the Red Cross native women in the war-torn countries of Europe today are at work in an effort to meet the distress among their children, but their service is in no way sufficient to cope with the problem.

There are children of five years today in Poland who have never seen a dog or a cat and have never heard the singing of a bird. They are half-naked and wild-eyed and they exist like animals in their foul-smelling, diseased hovels in city and village. They are the most pitiful heritage left by the World War in Europe.

A charming picture of Miss Doris K. Willis, daughter of Hon. and Mrs. J. Madison Willis, appeared in the picture edition of a leading Baltimore paper last Sunday. Miss Willis, who is attending Maryland College for Women near Baltimore, Md., is one of the editors of her college paper and is winning recognition in her clever work.

Fitzgerald of Columbus, Saturday afternoon to motor to Frankfort to be guests at a week end house party entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Hutton, (Jane Paul)

"The mothers of Springfield, I believe, are co-operating with the school officials in having their daughters wear decent dresses," Mrs. I. E. Loos, president of the Springfield Parents' Teachers' Association, said yesterday when asked what she thought of School Superintendent McCord's campaign against short skirts and half hose.

While Columbus and Cincinnati school officials and mothers have been battling over the question of decency in cloths and school children in these cities have been sent home when they appeared at classes with bare knees, Springfield officials have been restoring to more diplomatic methods.

In stead of "You go home, Catherine and don't come back until you get some decent clothes, Springfield teachers simply say, "You would look a lot sweeter, Jane, dear, if you wore those stockings above your knees." And the plan works. Mr. McCord says. "We have been getting wonderful co-operation from the mothers in this matter," he says, "and I know the conditions here are not as bad as in other Ohio cities, especially Cleveland."

Columbus Wednesday observed a "middy day." High school girl students appeared at classes wearing more or less uniform costumes that were simple, attractive, appropriate and economical, with white middie as their common feature.—Springfield Sun.

DEATH SUMMONS
WORLD WAR VETERAN

The announcement of the death of Mr. Warden Morrow, son of Mr. John Morrow, at his home in Waukegan, Ill., Friday morning, will cause great regret in this city, the former home of the Morrow family, and where they have numerous relatives and friends. Mrs. William H. Dial, an aunt, and Miss Louella Riley a cousin, were called to Waukegan by the serious condition of Mr.

Morrow and will remain over for the funeral services Monday.

Mr. Morrow was commissioned Lieutenant in the late war and went through without a scratch, coming home apparently in perfect health.

Since then tuberculosis developed, and the end came quickly. A wife and two small children survive and have the warm sympathy of many friends.

Mr. Morrow held a splendid position with the Waukegan Wire Mills when his health failed.

MRS. LEE PALMER

The announcement of the death of Mrs. Lee Palmer (Opal Ott) at her home in Old Town, Thursday morning will be learned with regret by friends and acquaintances in this city her girlhood home.

Mrs. Palmer's death followed a complication of diseases from which she had suffered for eight months. She was 26 years of age.

With her husband and two sons, Elwood aged eight and Ernest four, she had lived at Old Town for five years. Two brothers, Messrs. Ralph and Odd Ott of Springfield survive.

Mrs. Palmer was a member of the Presbyterian Church in this city. Funeral services were held Saturday morning at ten o'clock at the home in Old Town and the body was brought to this city for burial.

NATIONAL LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS ARE HOLDING FIRST
CONVENTION: TWO THOUSAND WOMEN TAKE UP U. S. ISSUES

Representative leaders at the convention are, left to right, above: Mrs. Julian B. Salley, third regional director; Mrs. Maud Wood Park, chairman of the national league; Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, honorary chairman. Below: Mrs. Solon Jacobs, secretary, and Mrs. Richard Edwards, treasurer.

The National League of Women Voters, which came into being year ago when the National Woman's Suffrage association ceased functioning, is now in session in Cleveland, Ohio, at its first convention. The league has a membership of more than 2,000,000 and there are more than 2,000 women attending the convention. It is a serious convention. Republican and Democratic women alike, their partisanship forgotten, are convening to re-dedicate their energies to winning from the new national administration and lawmakers and from each of the forty-eight state governments those rights which they believe the women of America must have if they are to fulfill their highest duties under the lately won ballot.

The convention is going to seek a method of getting the new national administration to pass a law to protect the mothers of the country and their babies and it will seek a law to standardize and broaden the schools of the country under a federal agency. These are only two things for which these women, most of whom are mothers themselves, are going to campaign.

It gives me pleasure to announce that, because of reductions in the cost of all standard brands of serum, I am making a corresponding cut in the price.

Am sure it will pay you to call me before arranging for immunizing work.

Just remember, however, that price is not the sole consideration; better stand by the tried and true; if you are solicited to make a change, think twice; then decide to let well enough alone.

I have had a longer and larger experience with hog work than any other veterinarian in Ohio, and am the only graduate licensed practitioner in the state who devotes his time and attention exclusively to the hog.

Permit me further to announce that I immunized more than 30,000 pigs in 1920 without one single "break".

AGED MAN FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED NO SUSPICION OF FOUL PLAY

Disappearance of James M. McKelvey Causes Investigation and Body is Found by the Police.

His body in a bad state of decomposition. James M. McKelvey, 67, was found dead in his room over the Teft Rug Company plant on West Court street Friday evening about six o'clock after an absence of several days had resulted in an investigation.

After viewing the body Saturday morning and making a careful survey of the room in which the body was found, Coroner Lanning stated that death was caused by hemorrhage.

The lungs were filled and the coverings of the bed on which the body was found were saturated with blood.

As near as can be ascertained McKelvey was last seen about Tuesday. He had been working at odd jobs at the home of Mrs. Jane Daugherty and had been going to the house twice daily. When his absence continued a call was sent for the police to make an investigation and Chief Moore went to the room which McKelvey occupied over the Teft Rug Company.

The body was found lying on one side of the bed, fully dressed. McKelvey evidently had been suddenly stricken and died a moment after he had fallen across the bed.

Chief Moore immediately sent for the coroner and posted an officer at the door until a preliminary examination had been made.

Undertaker Albert McCoy was called and the body was removed to the McCoy undertaking rooms and prepared for burial.

McKelvey had made his home in the room in which the body was found for 20 years. He was a house painter by trade and also worked at odd jobs.

But two people in this city are relatives of the dead man. Mrs. James Flint is an aunt and Mrs. Frank Morgan is a second cousin.

McKelvey has several half sisters and brothers in Pennsylvania but their places of residence have not been learned.

The room in which McKelvey lived was very simply furnished. A bed and a stove, which also served as a cook stove, were the main articles of furniture. Old fashioned lithographs covered the walls and the floor was little with paint buckets, bottles of oil and brushes. In a small note book found on a small stand at the head of the bed he had written several names which were meaningless to the observers.

On one page was found what was supposed to be list of first names of his brothers and sisters with the date of their births.

Burial was made in Washington cemetery Saturday afternoon.

HIGHWAY REPORT IS ENCOURAGING FOR THIS WEEK-END

Auto Club Recommends Drive To Chillicothe Via Circleville as Best For Sunday Motorist.

Very encouraging reports for Sunday motorists were given out by the Fayette County Automobile Club, Friday.

As the best drive for the day the club gave a drive to Chillicothe by way of Circleville. "Leaving this city take the direct route to Circleville and from there to Chillicothe. This road is one of the best in the state. The motorists is advised to return by way of Clarksburg but the Frankfort road is open and the detour is well marked."

The report states that the direct route to Columbus is open and that the bad places above Erie will not offer a hindrance unless in the instance of a hard rain.

Springfield is a popular objective for the motorists by way of Jamestown and Xenia. The road is good all the way, it is advised.

The club recommends that those going to Cincinnati take the Dayton route. While this way is 22 miles farther than direct route the drive is much more pleasurable because of the exceptionally good road.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

CONFERENCE OF
MANY CHURCHES
IS HELD FRIDAY

Recent Church Survey of Fayette County Considered.

Vote Unanimously to Act
 Unitedly on Problem of Morals.

In an interdenominational conference, to consider the report of the recent church survey in Fayette county and to formulate a co-operative program designed to correct weaknesses revealed by the survey, representatives of Fayette Churches met at First Baptist Church, Friday,
 in an inter denominational conference.

Rev. D. A. Kearns-Preston, of Bloomingburg, was in charge of the conference. Rev. B. F. Lamb, Survey Supervisor and Secretary, of Columbus, and Rev. W. H. Thompson, Director of Rural Church Work of the Ohio Baptists, of Granville, were leaders.

Although the attendance was small the delegates attending were representatives and practically every part of the county was represented.

Field work for the survey was done by Rev. J. L. Laughlin, at that time pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Bloomingburg. The survey was completed March 24, 1920.

The program was devoted almost entirely to a discussion of problems pertaining to the churches in every locality of the county.

At the afternoon session, which was more largely attended than the morning meeting, the question of morals in the churches met with chief concern.
 It was the consensus of opinion of delegates and ministers that the religious forces must act unitedly on moral problems.

To report on this movement at the next meeting of the Fayette County Ministerial Association a committee was named. The members of the committee are Rev. D. A. Kearns-Preston, of Bloomingburg; Rev. Rose, of Staunton; Rev. Psaltzgraf, of Clarksburg; Rev. K. B. Alexander, of Grace
 Methodist Church; Rev. A. W. West, of the First Baptist church; Rev. G.

 E. Groves, of the Christian Church.

The meeting held in this city was one of a series of more than fifty county church conferences being held in the state this spring.

The Ministerial Association asked Rev. Lamb, the survey supervisor, to make a return visit to this city and address the body at an early date.
